'Supplement to Final EIR' for housing project released; comments invited through March 31

The CSU trustees have released a "Supplement to the Final EIR," which provides more detailed analysis on the proposed faculty and staff housing project at Highland Drive and Highway 1.

A recent lawsuit regarding the housing project, known as Site H-8, resulted in a judicial decision requiring the recirculation of information and analysis regarding certain specified environmental concerns, according to Bob Ambach, managing director for the Cal Poly Housing Corp.

The public is invited to comment on the supplement through March 31.

For more information, please see the Feb. 26 Cal Poly Report online at <http://calpolynews.calpoly.edu/cpreport/reportindex.html>. □

Nominees sought for student leadership awards

Student Life and Leadership is seeking nominations of students for The Land Family Quest for the Best Award, which recognizes student leaders who exemplify the core values of excellence, stewardship, collaboration, integrity and community.

The annual award is funded by Jeff Land, a 1980 business graduate, and his wife, Carla.

The Land family seeks students who have achieved the highest level of excellence in their ability to balance academic pursuits with community service. Their involvement can be in campus, religious or charitable organizations.

For more information about the award and the criteria, see the Feb. 26 Cal Poly Report online at <http://calpolynews.calpoly.edu/cpreport/reportindex.html> or contact Pat Harris in the Leadership Education and Development office at ext. 6-2582 or pharris@calpoly.edu. More information is also available on the LEADS Web site at www.leadscalpoly.edu.

Nominations are due March 14. □

CalPERS home loan program to be topic of presentation

Representatives from the CalPERS home loan program will give a brown-bag lunch presentation March 14 about buying or refinancing a home. The talk will be noon-1 p.m. in the Veranda Café.

In addition to saving money on closing costs, the program benefits include a free 60-day rate lock with two free interest rate float-down opportunities; reduced mortgage insurance rates; reduced escrow and title fees; and a Smartmove real estate assistance program with cash rebates.

In some cases, 100 percent financing is available, allowing CalPERS members to finance their down payment using their retirement account as collateral.

The presentation is sponsored by Human Resources. For more information on the home loan program, call (800) 874-7377 or visit the Web site at <http://www.calpers.ca.gov/homeloan/default.htm>. □

Chicano conceptions to be topic of two presentations

David Carrasco, Rudenstine Professor of the Study of Latin America at Harvard Divinity School, will give two presentations Friday (Feb 28).

The first, "Aztec Moments and Chicano Cosmovision: Aztlán Recalled to Life," will be at 11 a.m. in the Business Building Rotunda (Room 213). The lecture and slide show will examine the Chicano conception of paradise and Aztlán.

At 7 p.m. in Philips Hall, Carrasco will present "Alambrista: Recalled to Life," a description of how a group of Chicano scholars and musicians brought new life to the award-winning 1977 film "Alambrista."

The talk will be followed by a showing of the new director's cut of the film, which won the Camera d'Or at the Cannes Film Festival in 1977. For more information, call Ethnic Studies at ext. 6-1707. □

Talk to explore investing

David Cryden, vice president of Blakeslee & Blakeslee and host of the radio show "SmartMoney Talk," will present "I Can Barely Stand It Anymore: Investing After a Three-Year Bear Market"

The talk, from noon to 1 p.m. March 5, is part of the winter quarter Learn-at-Lunch series sponsored by the Office of Campus Relations. For more information, call ext. 6-6770. □

Lizt Alfonso Dance Cuba to celebrate Spanish dance

Lizt Alfonso Dance Cuba, an ensemble that celebrates Spanish-influenced dance, will appear at 8 p.m. March 4 in the Christopher Cohan Center's Harman Hall.

The Lizt Alfonso Dance Cuba company includes 22 female dancers and an ensemble of musicians. The company presents a unique style – a "Cuban way" of combining flamenco, ballet and Spanish classical dance with Afro-Cuban and Cuban rhythms. The diverse repertoire is backed by a lively Salsa band.

Tickets to this Cal Poly Arts performance are $22 to $34. They are on sale at the Performing Arts Ticket Office 10 a.m.-6 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Saturdays. Call ext. 6-2787, or fax your order to ext. 6-6088. □

Master class planned for brass instrumentalists

Part-time music faculty members Roy Main and Keith Snell will hold a free master class for all brass instrument players from 7 to 8:30 p.m. March 7 in Room 218 in the Davidson Music Center.

The presentation is intended to demonstrate the benefits derived from playing duets. The presentation is open to all, and brass players are invited to bring their instruments. □
